Lab tests name cyanide poison in student death

By CHRISTINE RIZK
ANP Staff Writer

Results of a toxicology analysis indicated cyanide poisoning as the cause of death of a high school student found in his garage earlier this month.

The Wayne County Medical

Ben Davidson

Examiner's Office released its findings Tuesday ending speculation about the death Oct. 10 of Ben Davidson, 16, a sophomore at Romulus High School.

Davidson, of Orchard Street in Romulus, was found seated behind the wheel of an inoperable dunebuggy by his mother. Police said at the time that there was no apparent cause of death.

The toxicology analysis found traces of the chemical in Davidson's blood.

Investigators Tuesday said Davidson had apparently ingested the deadly substance but declined to comment whether it was intentionally consumed.

A test tube discovered in Davidson's bedroom at the time of his death contained a substantial amount of suspected cyanide, police said.

The contents were sent to the medical examiner's office for analysis.

Police said that Davidson was a chemistry student during his freshman year and that his brother was currently enrolled in chemistry classes at Romulus High School.

It is not known if either youth obtained the cyanide from the school's chemistry lab.

Davidson's death was the second in less than one week of a high school student.

At the time, students at Romulus High School were recovering from the death Oct. 7 of Michael Sperry, 17, a sophomore struck by a truck while walking down Middlebelt Road.

Some students attributed Davidson's death to his dependency over Sperry's accident but police thus far have refused to confirm or deny these reports.

Investigators are interviewing family and friends in an attempt to determine the circumstance of his death.

Dancing the night away

Daddies gave their daughters a whirl Oct. 17 at the second annual Sweetheart Dance sponsored by the recreation department at North Junior High School in honor of Sweetest Day, Saturday, Oct. 19.

Girls were treated to refreshments and corsages and dads received photos of their sweethearts to take home. Approximately 200 dads and daughters attended the festivities.

Pictured at left are Darnell Hearst and his two daughters, Delores and Yolanda, who pause from their busy dance schedules to pose for the photo. Dad looks like he's got his hands full!

City joins forces with downriver

By CHRISTINE RIZK
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus' recent alliance with the Downriver Community Conference will move the city one step closer to its economic potential, according to Mayor Beverly McAnally.

The move, announced at an annual DCC meeting Oct. 10, will allow Romulus to tap into the organization's vast job training and economic development resources.

It will, according to McAnally, increase the "scope of resources and influence" available to residents and enable the city to take advantage of numerous DCC grants.

The city is currently enrolled in the Western County Private Industry Council but was looking to "upgrade its image" by joining forces with the downriver area, the mayor said.

A $4,500 annual fee grants access to job training, community services, a summer youth and veterans program, vocational education training and a hot-line for employment.

The city will also join forces in a mutual aid program designed to combine the efforts of local law enforcement agencies, including DRANO (Downriver Area Narcotics Organization).

According to Dewey Henry, the executive director for the DCC, the organization is successful in recruiting "vast amounts of money" for business expansion.

Romulus, he continued, will benefit by "joining a collection of communities rather than working alone as an individual".

A non-profit consortium formed in 1977 to solve "common problems" in the downriver area, the DCC currently lists 17 communities as members with a total population of more than 380,000.

"For $4,500, (Romulus) bought into a staff of over $1 million worth and can piggyback on various activities we provide," Henry said. "Most of our communities don't have a lot of technical skills and can tap into the DCC."

The DCC, he said, will benefit by the alliance with Detroit Metropolitan Airport and the potential job opportunities available there.

McAnally said one of the biggest disappointments during her tenure as mayor has been the administration's inability to secure jobs for the vast number of unemployed Romulus residents.

"(Joining) the DCC will provide a marvelous opportunity for our people," she said. "We don't have a lot of money and my job is to open up these resources."

The alliance is criticized by some as a move towards aligning Romulus more with the downriver area than Western Wayne.

A recent invitation by the DCC to join in a feasibility study of an I-275-Northline connector was met with hesitation by some councilmembers who felt the proposal would serve to detour travellers out of the city and into the downriver area.

"I don't think it's a valid concern," McAnally responded, suggesting that the city wouldn't be "giving anymore than we're getting" from the DCC.

One of the benefits, she said, is the involvement with other communities and the interaction between other mayors and government officials.

One added feature, the mayor pointed out, was the inclusion of the city in downriver telephone directories several years ago.

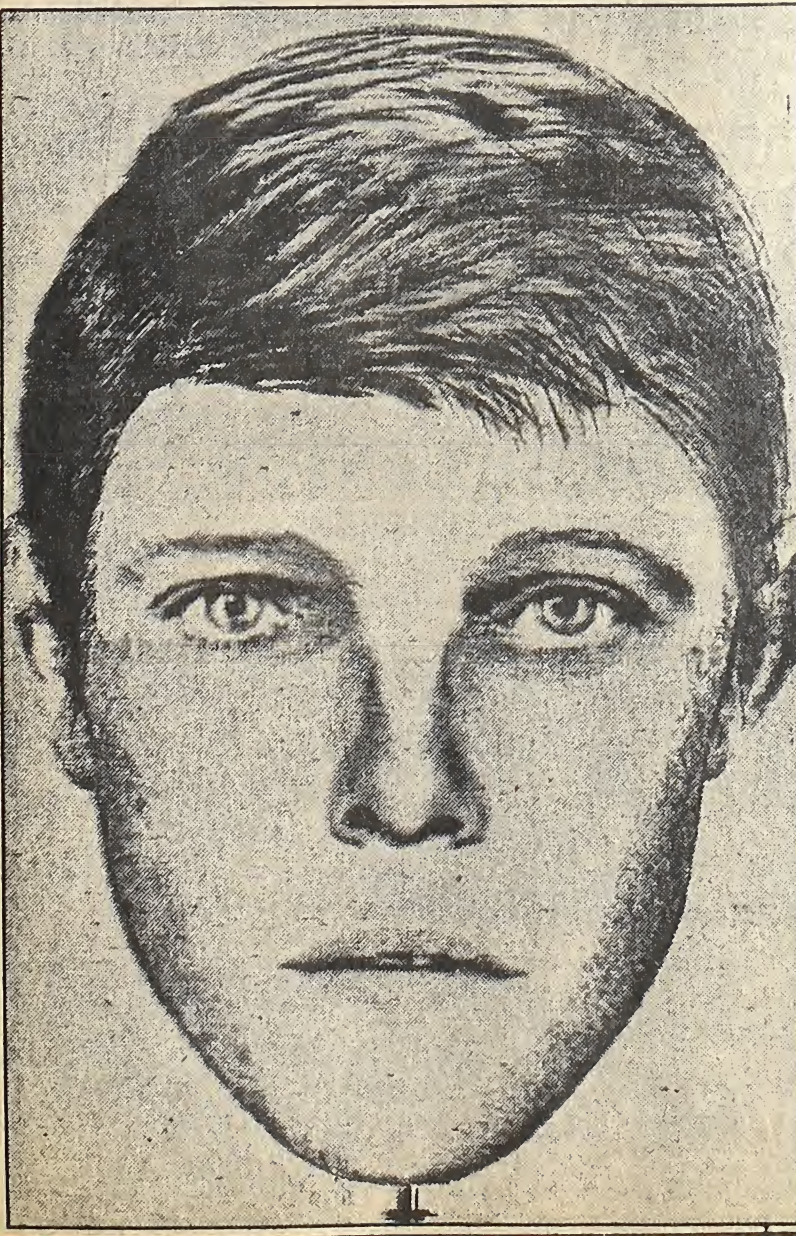

"Geographically, we've already been identified with the downriver area by virtue of the phone company," she said. "Depending on your perspective, we were already a part."

Suspect sought in jewelry heist

Police have released this composite sketch of one of two suspects in the Oct. 10 robbery/homicide at Dollar Rent-A-Car of Subhash Jain, a Chicago jewelry salesman.

The suspect, according to witness statements, is a white male, approximately 5 feet 10 or 11 inches tall with sandy hair and 150 to 160 pounds. He was last seen wearing a blue and white plaid long-sleeve shirt and light blue pants.

Police Tuesday said that the victim's family and business associates are offering a maximum reward of $15,000 to anyone with information leading to the arrest, prosecution and conviction of the suspects. The offer, according to information released by the family, expires Nov. 15.

High speed rail considered for city

By CHRISTINE RIZK
ANP Staff Writer

A study to determine the feasibility of a high speed train from Detroit to Chicago could prove economically-attractive to Romulus since the area has been discussed as a proposed stop along the route.

The study, currently being conducted by the U.S. House of Representatives, is in its "primary" stage, according to Mayor Beverly McAnally, who said that the idea of a rapid transit rail through Romulus could potentially draw more businesses into the city.

"We want to transport people in an express-type concept," McAnally said in support of the proposal. "With the airport and the high speed rail, we could take care of two very different types of clientele."

The study, expected to continue over the next few months, examines existing rail and other transit methods available, including the Amtrak service from Detroit to Chicago.

Suggesting a "strong potential" for private funding for the project, the study encompasses three different systems, ranging in cost from $500 million to $1.8 billion.

An intermediate speed system, traveling between 79-90 miles per hour, would operate with a non-stop time of 3 hours and forty-five minutes and would cost $500 million.

A second option, a high-speed rail costing $900 million, would travel between 125-140 miles per hour. Travel time would run approximately three hours.

A third proposal and one that would pass near Detroit Metropolitan Airport, a very high speed rail, would travel at 160-250 miles per hour with a non-stop time of two hours. The cost ranges approximately $1.8 billion.

The Detroit-Chicago corridor, considered to be one of the more economically-viable in the United States, encompasses 280 miles and includes 13 million people.

Currently, there exists an Amtrak service which carries 1,000 commuters a day on three daily trains, according to information released by Rep. Richard Fitzpatrick, chairperson for the committee on high speed rail.

Travel along the corridor, anticipated to increase by 58 percent by the year 2010, is a major factor in designing an alternate transportation service.

One attractive measure included in the study is the reduced travel time and the option, McAnally said, of a rapid rail service making no commuter stops.

Although the study considers the sole input of private monies to support the project, a Michigan Department of Transportation summary indicated that some "public involvement" appears necessary.

Romulus' involvement, at this stage, McAnally said, is that of "observing with in-

AIDS policy set by school district

By CHRISTINE RIZK
ANP Staff Writer

Educators in the school district will recommend that children stricken with AIDS be tutored by homebound teachers in a first attempt to establish policy on the devastating disease.

The recommendation will be forwarded to the State Board of Education this week. The board will then compile data from other Michigan school districts.

Based on recommendations that districts establish policy regarding acquired immune deficiency syndrome, Superintendent William Bedell said that until more facts are known, those children will receive schooling outside the classroom.

"Nobody knows what to do," Bedell admitted this week. "The human side suggests that if the kids are ill, you'd like to provide them with the best possible education...but this isn't like a contagious disease, it's not just a matter of isolating the child for a time."

The guidelines reflect the precautions measures schools are following despite the assurances from the medical groups that AIDS cannot be transmitted.

A good 'neigh' bor? Van Buren couple helps save pony

By CHRISTINE RIZK
ANP Staff Writer

They labeled him a hero and thrust him and his wife into the limelight all for the sake of one pony named Lucky.

But if Edward Grajek and his wife Ann had their way, they would prefer to remain anonymous and harbor the animal awhile longer rather than feel as though they had "given all (Lucky's) secrets away."

It was the fear of impending danger for the animal and the desire to see the Michigan Humane Society change the pending on your prospective) animal that escaped and eluded authorities for ten days after the carnage Oct. 7 on I-94 that left 22 horses dead when the floor of the trailer in which they were riding collapsed.

The pinto was among those horses transported to a boarding stable in Van Buren Township awaiting transfer to a slaughterhouse in Canada.

The ambitious pony eluded captors a second time and began his venture on Grajek's property. "I hid him for 10 days so nobody would find him," the ex-Wayne police officer admitted proudly. "I adventures the horse had been through, grazed on his benefactor's Van Buren Township property and hid from spectators and pursuers in the woods behind his house.

Grajek even placed bushels of corn and apples in the woods so the pony wouldn't go hungry.

All this from 27-year pillar of law and order whom children once regarded as the terror of the City of Wayne during his tenure there.

Grajek scoffs at the recollection and insists it was his training as a marine that served his purpose better these past weeks.

"I'd go out to those woods everyday and track him with a stick in my hand to mark the trail. If he passed through again, I'd know it," he ex-use this incident to change the laws in Michigan, said he and Kelly tracked the horse for "miles and miles" everyday before they were finally close enough to tranquilize him.

"He was like a little kid who ran away from home," Wells explained. "He made one mistake--he went to the wrong field--and then came back through the same field. We knew we had him then."

Wells, who says it's just the beginning for the pony whose managed to escape death two times, is glad the saga is nearing its end.

The humane society "will put this episode" in the "face of state representatives" and approach lobbyist in an attempt to stir interest in animal transport.

"The animal needs kindness now, Wells explained. "We're not going to send it to slaughter after what it's been through."

plained.

A staunch supporter of animal rights, it was only when Tom Davis of Hell Creek Ranch in Hell, Michigan, expressed interest in capturing the horse did Grajek leak his secret.

"A lot of people want a horse and they don't even know how to look at one," he said. "All the others were a bunch of cowboys but Davis, well, I knew he knew just what he was doing out there."

With the help of humane society director David Wells, WXYZ TV's John Kelly, who is on the board of directors for the society and Davis, Lucky fell to a tranquilizer gun supplied with pellets containing a special compound flown in from California via overnight express.

Wells, who is determined to

"We tried it three years ago," Wells said, "but then nobody listened."

Wells said that the publicity from the Oct. 7 accident will hopefully carry the banner of humane treatment of animals into the public sector.

"It's a sad, disgusting world for animals out there--we're trying to change that," he said.

Lucky is currently in the custody of the Michigan Humane Society and will remain there until he recovers from viral pneumonia and until the society is assured that the pony will be given the "best possible" home.

"The animal needs kindness now," Wells explained, "we're not going to send it to slaughter after what its been through."

other hand, has been anything but idyllic since the horse's whereabouts became public.

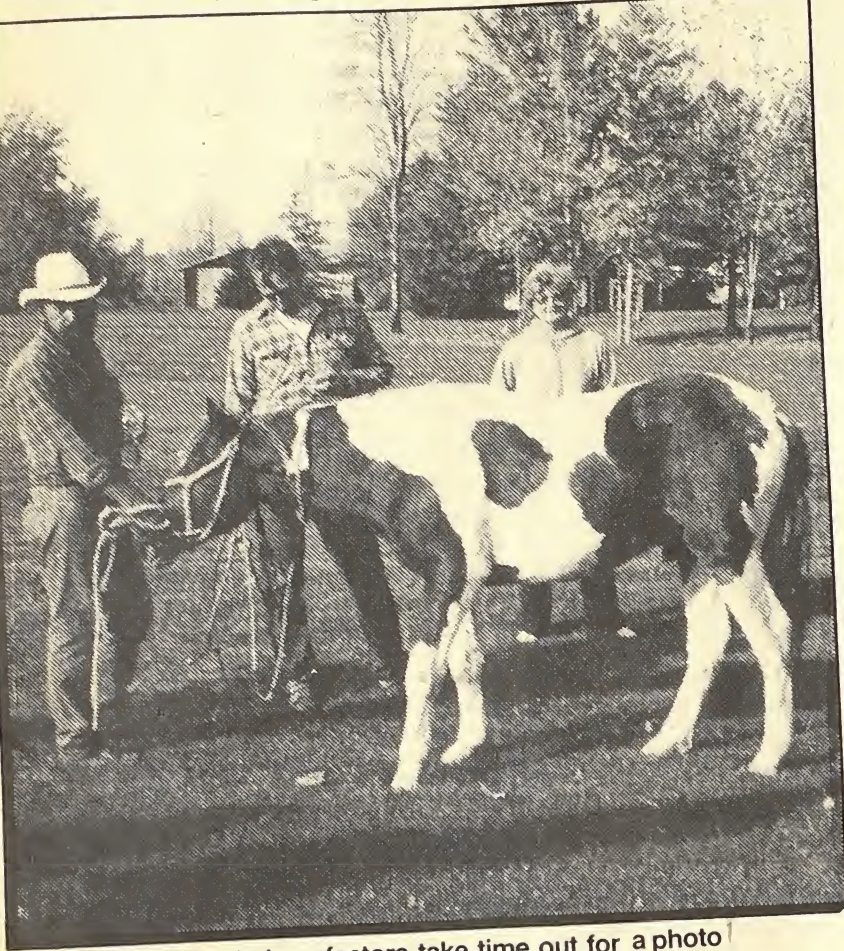

"He was so nervous during the whole thing you'd have thought he was the one who was shot," Ann Grajek said, referring to her husband who is apparently tired of all the publicity.

Area newspapers and even those as far away as Nashville have contacted the Grajeks for their comments.

"We're even going to be in People magazine," he said proudly, displaying a portfolio of photographs detailing the past weeks.

"I can't keep up with it," he admitted, resolving to settle back into the routine of a retired Wayne cop and set aside his pony-tracking days.

Romulus officer faces January trial

By CHRISTINE RIZK
ANP Staff Writer

The trial for the Romulus police officer charged with manslaughter in the death of a 25-year-old man has been scheduled for January 7, 1986.

James Khoury entered a plea of not guilty during his Oct. 11 pretrial arraignment in Wayne County Circuit Court before Judge Thomas J. Brennan.

Khoury, 26, is charged with the shooting death of James Hester, a Birch Run Apartment resident.

During his preliminary examination in Canton's 35th District Court, defense attorney John Lyons told Judge James Garber that Khoury acted in self-defense when firing his weapon at close range.

Hester was shot in the left temple and was pronounced dead shortly after.

Judge Garber ruled in favor of prosecuting attorney, Jess Swartz, who said Khoury acted with excessive force when responding to a fight between Hester and another man June 27.

Khoury also faces one count of felony firearm, which carries a mandatory two-year sentence if convicted.

Airport police spot narcotic

Sheriff's at Metro Airport confiscated more than $50,000 worth of suspected cocaine during a drug bust Oct. 14.

No arrests have been made pending the results of a drug analysis made at the state police lab.

Two male suspects, both from Valdosta, Georgia, eluded police in Flushing, Michigan, and were preparing to board a Midway flight to Florida when airport police conducted a search for the suspected contraband.

Sgt. Bill Wadsworth said Flushing police contacted airport police and indicated that the suspects were heading toward the airport. Wadsworth said the search was conducted at 10:45 a.m. without incident.

Both suspects were temporarily detained for two days and released until confirmation of the drug can be made, he said.

The suspects could be charged with transporting an illegal substance.

AIDS policy set in district

ted through casual contact.

Bedell said that there have been no instances of a child in the district being stricken with AIDS and that the guidelines are merely an attempt to comply with state requirements.

In a letter to school districts across the state, State Superintendent Phillip Runkel urged educators to "establish local advisory groups" to develop policy regarding AIDS.

Each district, he said, should be "prepared to act within the best interests of the child and of the other children."

Officials should review each incident of AIDS on a "case-by-case" basis, he said.

In addition to drawing from guidelines submitted from local districts, the State Board of Education will review the findings of the federal Centers for Disease Control.

In its recommendations, the C.D.C. suggests that care and education of AIDS-stricken children be based on their "behavior, neurologic development and physical condition"

Bedell said despite those guidelines, until it is proven that AIDS cannot be passed among children in a school setting, he will recommend isolation.

Other measures set forth by the center include preserving the privacy of the afflicted individual, development of an educational program detailing the disease and its transmission and adoption of methods of handling infected children's body fluids.

No mandatory screening upon entry to school is recommended.

"Local school boards have a lot more power than people think," Bedell said, suggesting that whatever guidelines a district sends into the state will become policy, eliminating the possibility of a uniform state response to handling AIDS.

Almost public information

We have been contemplating, this week, the number of things one can still do with $12 in the economy of today.

That might seem a strange preoccupation for a staff of news reporters and editors—but the $12 figure does have some bearing on the way we perform our job.

Last week one of our reporters requested the privilege of listening to a recording of a Canton Township Board of Trustees meeting. These tapes are kept as a record of the meetings by the township and are in the trust of the township clerk. Our reporter made his request of the clerk's office, and as the clerk was not at work due to surgery, her office followed the usual, mandated rules in such a case.

After his Friday request, he listened to the tapes on Monday. A township employee spent no more than 15 minutes locating the tapes, setting up a machine and seating and instructing our reporter. He was then left alone to listen to the tapes for one and one-half hour.

At the end of this time, he was presented with a bill for $12—the accrued amount at an $8 an hour rate of occupying township personnel while he reviewed the tapes.

Somewhat, this just doesn't sit well. The $12 fee seemed, to many of us here, just a bit exorbitant. And, as one astute reporter explained...it just may be illegal.

It took very little research, we repeat, very little, research to locate the opinion from Michigan Attorney General Frank Kelley which does, in fact, state that fees may be charged only for the copying or duplicating of such reports...not for the review of same. (Attorney General Opinions, 1979-80, No. 5500, p.25, Question 16, July 23, 1979).

While the attorney general may have changed his mind since he issued this opinion in 1979 and not told anyone, it seems very clear to us that the charge for listening to the tapes was not in accordance with the rules governing such things.

Informed of our findings, the clerk, upon her return, explained that the press is never charged for these reviews, or even for copies in most cases. She told us she would immediately authorize a refund check for us. Further, she said, she has always made every effort to cooperate with the press in these situations.

She has. But the issue here is not her, her practices or her attitudes. It is the possibility that since 1979 the township has been charging people to review board meeting tapes and that those charges may be illegal. It would behoove a township clerk to be aware of the proper procedures in such cases.

For $12 you can purchase two Itzak Perlman and the New York Philharmonic Orchestra albums. For $12 it is possible to see three very good movies. With $12, one could purchase a meal for two people. At $12, professional sports and professional drama are within reach.

Somewhat, the Canton Board of Trustees in session just doesn't seem to be in the same category.

And someone should have known it.

Lucky, indeed

He's well-fed, warm, and the object of nearly constant attention and affection.

He's reportedly responding well to the gentle ministrations of a health professional and fighting off pneumonia. He is Lucky . . . the little pinto pony who escaped death and carnage not once, but twice.

Nearly everyone has by now heard Lucky's story. His history is unknown prior to his being sold at an auction to a Wisconsin livestock dealer. From there he was packed onto an overloaded trailer truck and sent to Sarnia where he was to be slaughtered and his carcass butchered into steaks for consumption in Belgium.

The truck literally fell apart en route, however, and Lucky is the only survivor. Other ponies and horses were injured or killed when the flooring in both levels of the truck collapsed but Lucky escaped the ensuing carnage as animals were dragged down the freeway to death.

He escaped injury and was sent to a local farm until another truck could pick him and a few others escapees up to complete the trip to the slaughterhouse. He escaped this time by leaping the fence at the ranch and avoiding all efforts at capture for 10 days.

The veterinarian who treated the 3 year old pony and the Humane Society workers think he's a super creature, intelligent, animated and responsive. The people who aided him admit he spoke to their hearts.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Grajek, who befriended and fed Lucky, are shining examples of the goodness that we cherish in every human heart. Their caring and concern for this little pony demonstrates a true Christian caring and respect for fellow living creatures.

We all need to know that spirit still exists, particularly when we hear of circumstances such as those in this case. We all owe the Grajeks a debt of thanks. We're lucky there are people like them around.

Off the record

Last Tuesday I had the opportunity to address members of the Romulus Chamber of Commerce. During the question and answer session, following my brief but feeble attempt to amaze and inform, a question was directed to me. The exchange that followed centered around a point on which all journalists do not concur.

Specifically, the question confronting newspapers is, do they adopt an attitude in which, if they hear something, they have a right . . . no, a duty, to print what they have heard. The other prevalent philosophy mandates that a newspaper pursue a story until sufficient data to ensure accuracy is gathered.

Those who choose to pursue the latter course would gather facts, statements and specifics in order to verify or deny purported facts in a given matter under study.

I was asked at the Romulus meeting if, in fact, we had suppressed the story concerning the I-275 rest stop investigation by cooperating with government agencies, in this case, the state police.

It is a fact that the price of knowingly, or even unknowingly publishing false or misleading statements is very high. Libel, although hardly a new subject, is today very much a topical issue and a matter of real concern in stories of some magnitude and potential consequences. There have been a number of test cases concerning libel, freedom of the press, freedom of information, disclosure, and other such gut-level issues that come into play in the pursuit of such stories.

As I suggested to the questioner, what might be phrased "sitting on a story" is to a degree a subjective point of discussion. Well-known columnist Sidney Harris frequently points out that people choose words that lend credence to their view and behavior. If I do something, I will select words to describe my actions that denote approval.

If a friend or casual acquaintance behaves in a like manner, words are used that are neutral in their connotation. If someone with whom I am not acquainted or one I disapprove of conducts himself in a similar fashion, then my word choices may reflect disapproval. It is to a large degree a matter of one's parochial point of view.

It is my perspective that although we should not attempt to manipulate the public's right to know, we have other responsibilities as well:

- We must make every effort to reveal the truth as we know it
- We have a moral if not legal obligation to give a balanced consideration to both sides of an issue, assuming there are only two
- We must seek to protect the innocent
- We must confine our subjective views to the editorial page, to columns and to news analysis, clearly labeling and distinguishing them from news reporting
- And, we must avoid stories that are not stories, but sheer speculation.

Too often we read in both national publications as well as daily and even suburban newspapers, stories that are predominantly "hype". The writer asks a question in the headline, "Is Doris Day Carrying Rock Hudson's Child?", or "Will Lord and Taylor Move Their World Headquarters to Livonia?" . . . they drag you into the story under false pretenses, suggesting they will reveal to you the unequivocal answer, and then end by telling you they don't know.

There are, no doubt, many who would question our handling of certain story by a given reporter somewhere back through the years. What I suggest to you here is our code of ethics, if you will, by which we measure ourselves. "We ain't perfect", and I do not imply that we are, but we're serious-minded journalists, yet not too serious. We seek perfection, knowing we will never obtain it, attempting to keep our perspective of the world we live in.

Part and parcel of the matter at hand is whether we feel an inclination or duty to allow people to speak to us "off the record". As I suggested in a recent discussion with a community leader, reporters would much prefer not to carry the excess baggage of whether someone said that a particular conversation is "on the record" or "off". Much easier, to be sure, for a reporter to assume a position that, "If I hear it, I'm free to print it".

Editors often prefer to simplify the job of their staff by "childproofing" the job of their reporters. Far easier to not have to deal with knowing, but not printing. Investigative reporters would be out of business if they printed all they know.

Through the years we've had many interesting personalities working for us as editors or reporters. A case in point was Bill Gail, uncle of Emily Gail, candidate for Detroit City Council, and actor Max Gail of "Barney Miller" fame.

Bill was our editor in Howell when my Dad and partner Ray owned the Livingston County Press. I was the new kid, and was sent to deal with the deteriorating community relations caused in part by Bill Gail.

It was Bill's attitude that he could attend any meeting at any time, and could and would print it as he heard it. Now this was before the Open Meetings Act, and at that time the rules of the game as to what justified a secret, closed meeting and what did not had not been clarified in law. So Bill made up his own rules.

When he invited himself into school board meetings, city council meetings, and county board of supervisors meetings, it led to anything and everything from a sudden change in gears by officials in the manner in which they spoke, an abrupt end to the meeting, are on several occasions, his physical ejection from the premises.

Bill no doubt did more than his share to bring about needed change and clarification in the laws governing meetings of public officials. It was, however, difficult dealing with the fallout.

We have in the last few weeks stated that we will not be a spokesperson for any individual or politician. It is, however, naive to think that we cannot deal with all people including politicians in a free and open manner, listening to their point of view and opinions, without being corrupted by their influence.

We will continue to listen on and off the record, report as objectively to the best of our ability the facts as we see them, clearly labeling our opinions for what they are, opening our pages to the expression of opinions that agree with ours, but more importantly, to those with opinions divergent from our own.

By our reporting what is known about a breaking story others may be motivated to step forward to fill in the missing blanks. It happens to us in murder investigations, crime reports, missing persons and on stories concerning any number of subjects.

The public has a right to know, and others have a right to privacy. We must make judgements, we hope you think our batting average is good in making those judgement calls.

We won't be right all the time. When you don't think we are we expect to hear from you. We'll even talk to you about your opinions and concerns, off the record.

See you next week.

Animals treatment criticized

Dear Editor;
On Monday, October 7th, 22 innocent horses and ponies were brought to their death when the bottom fell out of the trailer that they were being transported in.
I am appalled, to put it mildly, at the negligence which surrounds this grotesque accident. Apparently the driver, who was working for C.J. Schmitt & Sons, called the company to notify them that the trailer was coming apart and that "there were horses on their backs, their legs kicking, some of them knocked down like bowling pins." The owner did not feel this was serious enough and told him to "proceed slowly" and that there "wasn't anything else that could be done in the middle of the night."
Obviously the animals' well-being was not taken seriously. Both the driver and the owner should be fined for each horse that could not be spared due to cruelty to animals.
Furthermore, there should be tighter codes concerning the transportation of animals, and these codes should be impeccably enforced.
We humans should be thankful that there is not another creature more intelligent and manipulative than ourselves. Only then would we experience life as a lower animal - living each day at the mercy of another.

Corrections Offered

To the Editor
I have today read an article entitled "Clerk cries foul in 'blight' charge", which I believe was authored by Dave Conley and printed as noted above.
I represented Mr. Terry Chuhuran regarding the two tickets referred to in this article, and therefore am in a position to know that some of the statements contained in the article are incorrect.
First, and most significantly, Mr. Chuhuran did not receive "verdict" of "a six-month probation". After the trial was completed on September 10, 1985 an agreement was reached between Judge John MacDonald, Township Attorney Jud Hemming and myself to take this case "under advisement" for six months. In effect, no verdict of guilt or innocence was made, and the case essentially is adjourned for this period. There is no probation associated with this agreement.
While it is true that the Canton Township Ordinance Department will be monitoring the situation, the article incorrectly implies that Mr. Chuhuran cannot have his partially restored automobile on his driveway. In fact, Mr. Chuhuran can remove his vehicle to his driveway, which therefore is to be returned to the garage when his work day has been completed.
Also, I read with interest the denials of Supervisor Poole and others that these tickets were not issued in relation for the suit filed by Clerk Linda Chuhuran against Poole. I am enclosing a copy of the Ordinance Department's own record which clearly shows the complaint in the case to be "Canton Township/J. Poole". This complaint was made June 17 and Mr. Poole was served with the lawsuit against him on June 13. Neutral observers can draw their own conclusions.

I would expect that an appropriate follow-up article, or at least the use of these comments as a "letter to the editor" will be forthcoming to correct the injustice done to Mr. Chuhuran by the last article. Thank you for your cooperation.

Very truly yours,

HELMKAMP, ELLIS &
ABRAHAM
Alan C. Helmkamp

Editors note: The article in question was not authored by David Conley but by Susan Willett. We hope the information in Mr. Helmkamp's letter corrects any misunderstanding regarding the story.

Intersection may be accessory to accident

To The Editor;
On Sept. 11, 1985 14-year old Maribeth Wojcik was struck by a vehicle while crossing the intersection of Wayne Road and Bayview. She subsequently died of injuries sustained in the accident. Her tragic death demonstrates the danger of that intersection.

As one who has resided in the area for 17 years, hardly a day goes by that I don't observe a vehicle on Wayne Road running a red light at that intersection. Part of the problem, I suspect, is the result that the red-green traffic signal becomes a yellow warning flasher at times and some drivers who regularly travel Wayne Road at this intersection get into a "flasher" mind-set and at times through inattentiveness, expecting a yellow flashing light at the intersection simply run the red light.
Also part of the problem is that the east-west streets that intersect Wayne Road are skewed to each other. (Bayview intersects Wayne from the East and Oakwood intersects Wayne Road from the West. Both Bayview and Oakwood run parallel to each other but Oakwood Street is located about 45 feet north of Bayview. Both Bayview and Oakwood end at Wayne Road.) Consequently, a driver heading south on Wayne Road should stop at the red light at Oakwood.
However, since the traffic signal is actually hanging over the intersection of Bayview and Wayne Road (45 feet south) there is a great temptation for some drivers to roll up to the Bayview-Wayne Road traffic light. After some drivers get there, some feel, since the no car can approach Wayne Road from the west (an auto repair garage is located there) they feel safe and continue right through the intersection (and through the red light).

To remedy this dangerous intersection I suggest that the City of Westland and Wayne consider the following solutions:
(1) Make the traffic light at this intersection permanently red-green and never to operate the yellow flasher. This, hopefully, will destroy the flasher mind-set that I believe many drivers who run this light have gotten into over time.
(2) Placing a large sign on the east side of Wayne Road just south of Bayview and a sign on the west side of Wayne Road just north of Oakwood with a large conspicuous letters that states a warning (i.e., "Prepare to Stop-Signal Ahead").
(3) Stringing an additional traffic light at the Oakwood-Wayne Road intersection. This should deter drivers from being tempted to "roll" up to the light at Bayview and Wayne Road. (And once getting there, from being further tempted to continue on through the red light.)
Obviously, solutions two and three will cost the City and County a minimal sum of money. But the alternative of doing nothing will only result over time in the loss of additional lives. The loss of Maribeth is already one loss to many.

Yours truly,
James R. McLaughlin

looks at books

The monarchs of 'Thieves World'

Robert Lynn Asprin published his first novel in 1977. Titled "The Cold Cash War," it is a good book but drew few readers to the then-waning science fiction field. Even a book written in collaboration with Star Trek's Mr. Sulu, George Takei, wasn't exactly a success.

Then two things happened. First, Asprin turned his sharp wit and jagged puns into a series of rip-roaring fantasy novels, beginning with "Another Fine Myth," followed it up with "Myth Conception" and a few others, equally groanable, the latest being "Myth-ing Persons."

Meanwhile, an idea struck Asprin and authoress Lynn Abbey, both residents of Ann Arbor and, by the way, husband and wife, to construct a city within the framework of which other writers could contribute came to pass.

Thus was born the town of Sanctuary and seven (so far) best-selling paperbacks, the latest of which shows off such considerable talents in the field as C.J. Cherryh, Diane Duanne and Andrew Offutt, as well as the two editors fine story contributions.

"We've got stories in and out that already assure that volume 13 will be filled," says Abbey, adding that "we even have ahd raves and 'Can I write one?' responses from people like Stephen King!" she gushes excitedly.

And why not? In 1981, when the first self-titled volume of "Thieves' World" was published, who would have guessed that, six volumes later, the collections are commonplace on the best sellers list almost as rule of thumb.

Sanctuary is, according to the inhabitants, the "meanest, seediest town in all of fantasy." No one would argue with that. It's a world of magic, swords, women of ill-repute (but then again, so are the men) wizards and, of course, thieves.

In addition, there will be two hardcover novels a year by contributions and overseen by Abbey. The first of these books, "Beyond Sanctuary" by Janet Morris, is already on the bookstore shelves. Also available are two Thieves' World games with more on the way, a Myth Adventure specialty comic which will be collected in a color volume by Christmas and will be sold in stores such as Waldenbooks and Dalton's, much like the Elfquest series was last year.

But, in the best tradition of late-night television ads, "But wait, there's more!" The Thieves' World books are about to debut in the graphic novel form and will be released quarterly, each volume rendering some stories from the paperbacks, and mixing them with new ones.

With the Myth books (and they're some of the best humor material this or any other genre has to offer!), the Myth comic and forthcoming color reprint, the Thieves' World series (the newest is titled "Thieves World, Book 7: The Dead of Winter" and is available everywhere on Ace), the Thieves' World graphic novels and games...well, the list just keeps growing. And so does the Kingdom created in Ann Arbor and watched over by King Bob and Queen Lynn.

"Sometimes, it gets to be a real mess, keeping everything straight and watching the licensing of products and all," Abbey says, quickly adding, "we love it though, wretched though Sanctuary may be, we love it."

Bob Asprin and Lynn Abbey will be at Waldenbooks, newly-located inside Westland Mall, from 2 until 4 p.m. this Saturday, autographing and answering questions about their books. For more information call 421-7724.

Spotlight Players shine in 'Close Ties'

Dealing with the societal problem of human aging, "Close Ties" by Playwright Elizabeth Diggs refers to a family's emotional relationships as they batter one another while trying to decide "what to do with grandma...a human being who has reached the peak of senility" and may represent a societal untying.

Director Rosemary Moorehead and a competent cast of Spotlight Players may give the play more warmth and acting finesse than the play deserves. The cast is not provided with the dramatic verve nor polished prose of "Death of a Salesman." The players tackle their individual roles with energy and succeed in bringing a topical play to a satisfying conclusion in the theatre at John Glenn High School.

If one were required to pick the outstanding performance of the evening, the task would be difficult, but Lorraine Parent probably gives the guttiest interpretation of a difficult role. But the ensemble acting is great, particularly with the material that "Close Ties" furnishes for them.

Although the actors are competent in their various interpretations, they score best in duos or sets in some truly dramatic sequences. Russ Holderness stage feelings projected in his dealings with his grandmother...Lois Tobin...are fine theatre.

Susan Bachand and David Willett wed

The historic Little Stone Church on Mackinac Island in upper Michigan was the setting for the July 18 marriage of Susan Bachand and David J. Willett.

Officiating at the early afternoon ceremony was Rev. Erwin Britton, former pastor at the First Congregational Church in Wayne. Acting as witnesses at the private, double-ring ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hoyt of Okemos. For the nuptials, the bride chose an off-white silk tea dress with a dropped waistline. She carried a nosegay of white day lillies accented with fern.

The groom is the owner and publisher of Associated Newspapers which publishes The Belleville Enterprise, The Romulus Roman, The Wayne Eagle, The Canton Eagle, The Westland Eagle and the Inkster Ledger-Star.

The new Mrs. Willett has been employed at Associated Newspapers and is presently serving in the capacity of Executive Editor of the publications.

The newlyweds honeymooned at The Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island, Shanty Creek Resort and Washington, D.C. They now reside in Westland.

Smiths mark 60th

A family gathering on Sept. 21 helped Harry and Vergal Smith celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary.

The celebration was given by their two children - Lawrence and Margaret.

The Smiths were married on Sept. 20, 1925, at the Evangelical and Reform Bethel Church in Detroit, with the Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr officiating.

Both Smiths are graduates of Northwestern High School, Smith completing his studies in 1921 and his wife in 1925. Smith also attended Eastern Michigan College, where he received his life certificate in teaching, as well as the University of Michigan. He received his master's degree from Wayne State University.

He spent his entire teaching career in the Detroit Public Schools. He started at McGraw School in 1926, was assigned to Foch School in 1929, Jefferson Intermediate School in 1930, Barber School in 1958 and Western High School in 1961. He retired in 1969.

Mrs. Smith worked for the personnel department of the Detroit Public Schools for 10 years, retiring in 1969.

Since retirement, the couple have spent their winters at Jensen Beach, Florida, and their summers at Central Lake, Michigan. Active in church and civic affairs, they both serve as volunteers in the Martin County Hospital in Stuart, Florida.

The Smiths have and two great-grandchildren three grandchildren.

A dinner-dance on Oct. 5 feted Joseph and Sarah DeFrancesco of Van Buren Township on their 25th wedding anniversary.

The party, held at the Goergetown Country Club in Ann Arbor, was given by their two daughters, Jacqueline and Michelle.

The DeFrancescos exchanged their wedding vows on Oct. 1, 1960 at St. Anthony's Church in Belleville. They have been residents of the Belleville-Van Buren Township area for 25 years.

Continued Grand Opening Celebration 6th Week

chef larry janes

soon to wed

Looking for food that's assertive and exciting? Tired of friends inviting you over, only to burn the top two layers of skin from your mouth and make you wish you had stock in Roloids?

Tex-Mex cooking is different. People from all over Mexico came to San Antonio area and brought their own regional recipes. Of course, that's not to mention the French, German and Jewish immigrants adding their heritage.

Some Tex-Mex breads are like crusty French loaves, others are similar to German sweet rolls and they even have some unleavened breads that probably came from Jewish immigrants!

Many people think all Mexican food is HOT but the native knows that true poblano chiles can be very mild. Did you know that flour, eggs, tomatoes and tomatillos (Mexican tomatoes that are a little more firm and green than their American counterparts) all neutralize the heat of hot chile pepers? In true Tex-Mex cooking, you search for the essence of chile flavor--not the heat.

To begin where it all began, this writer suggests that you take a little ride down to old Mexico. (At Bagley Ave between 12th and 15th, right off the Ambassador Bridge but across the Fisher freeway)

If you get there around 11 or 11:30 a.m., start with a small Botana from the Xochomillico restaurant. I love to sit in the back bar section where gringos plop quarters in the jukebox to hear "Down Mexico Way". I shouldn't even mention the famed Margaritas, but get one, not a pitcher, because you need your faculties for the walk afterwards.

When Leaving the restaurant, head east (right) down the block to the Tortilla Factory and maybe, if you're lucky Fernando will throw out a hot-from-the-oven tortilla.

Then, drop by the Bagley Cafe (across the street) for some not-too-Mexican soup-djour. Venture back west down the block to the Mexican grocery where you can get fresh poblano peppers, masa harina (corn flour) prepared sopas and chalupas, cilantro and fresh chile wreaths.

If still hungry, stop into old Mexico for the great combination plate that we split for two. On a hot summer evening, their frozen Margaritas are by far the best.

Kiddy-Corner across the street is the Xoch gift shop where you can purchase authentic Mexican pinatas and serapes. End it all with a leisurely ride around the beautiful Clark Park that is at it's peak in color right now. If you're a real downtowner, you might enjoy this quaint Mexican area during the evening hours. Waiting for tables with about 200 other city dwellers, all partying and drinking and roaming the well-lit streets is a sure-fire fun way to spend an evening.

By the way, if you're thinking about experimenting with some different chiles, remember these few tips: When handling, wear gloves or generously oil your hands to avoid burning or skin irritation. Always wash hands with soap after handling chiles. From the: "Don't make the same mistake as I did department" I was making some jalapeno jelly and using my food processor to chop the chiles. DO NOT look down the food tube of processor or blender while grinding as the fumes can be VERY irritating. Hope you enjoy these not-too-hot Tex Mex recipes. Drop me a note in care of this paper if you have a favorite. Bon Appetite!

SOUPS, CHALUPAS & TORTILLAS makes 12
2 cups masa (available at Mexican grocery)
1/4 cup stone ground cornmeal
1 1/2 teaspoons sugar
1 teaspoon solid vegetable shortening
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
About 1 cup warm water
Peanut oil (for frying)

Combine dry ingredients. Mix well by hand or in processor. Cut in shortening. If processing, drizzle in warm water while machine is running. If by mixing by hand, add water slowly. Mix well. Cover tightly. Allow to rest at room temperature for 1-2 hours. Break off walnut sized piece of dough and roll out between plastic wrap. Peel plastic from dough. Dip into hot (375 degrees) fat about 2 inches deep. Cook until puffed and brown, about 1 minute. Remove with a slotted spoon.

GREEN CHILE SALAD (WONDERFUL IN AN OMELETTE OR AS A TACO SAUCE)

6 tomatillos, quartered
5 poblano chiles, stemmed and seeded
2 cloves of garlic
1/2 avocado, peeled
1 cup sour cream
1/4 cup loosely packed cilantro leaves
1/2 teaspoon salt

Place tomatillos in a medium skillet, cook over low heat until softened with garlic. Transfer to processor or blender. Add remaining ingredients and puree until smooth. Serve warm or cold.

TEX-MEX BEAN SOUP GREAT WITH TORTILLAS TO SOP UP THE JUICE!

2 cups black beans
8 cups hot water
1 teaspoon salt (or to taste)
8 ounces tomato sauce
1 large onion, minced
1 large clove of garlic, chopped
2 ounces salt pork, diced
1 small dried hot red peper
12 ounces fresh pork, cubed
8 ounces mexican sausage, cubed (Italian or polish will suffice but nothing like Mexican)

Soak beans in water for four hours. Add salt, tomato sauce, onion and garlic and salt pork. Simmer for 45 minutes over medium heat. Add remaining ingredients, cover, bring to a boil, reduce to a rolling simmer and cook two hours until beans are cooked but still hold their shape. Discard red pepper before serving. Serves 6-8.

SOPAPILLAS (little Mexican doughnuts that a friend couldn't believe were easy to make and tasted great)

2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons shortening
3/4 cup ice water oil for frying

Sift all the dry ingredients together. Cut in shortening and gradually add the water until a good dough is formed. Roll out as thin as possible. Cut into squares. Drop into hot fat, cook until golden and puffed. Drain on paper towel. Dip into honey and roll in cinnamon and powdered sugar. Mmmmmgood

Cathy Horste of Belleville was one of the 10 finalists who recently competed in AAA Michigan's Fifth Annual Zero-Proof Mix Off at the Roostertail in Detroit. More than 108 entries were received statewide in the contest, which is the centerpiece AAA Michigan's "First A Friend, Then A Host" holiday traffic safety campaign. Horste's drink, "Padded Mallet," will be among top non-alcoholic drink recipes featured in a free Great Pretenders Party Guide to be distributed to the public at all AAA Michigan offices early in December. Top honors and a $1,000 trip for two were won by Steve Pogodzinski of the Amway Grand Plaza.

Michelle E. Busard of Romulus has been accepted into the freshman class at Oakland University in Rochester for fall of 1985.

Jerry Rose, director of Admissions and Scholarships at OU, commended the school counselors for the excellent preparation and guidance given to the students enrolling at the university this fall.

"With the many college and university opportunities available to students, the professional manner in which school counselors work with universities better assures students that their college choice is a good one. I want to congratulate all of our newly admitted students," Rose said.

Morehead State University President Herb F. Reinhard has announced that David Michael Blevins of Romulus is among a select group of students being awarded an MSU grant for the 1985-86 school year.

Blevins is a graduate of Romulus Senior High School and the son of Charles and Rebecca Blevins. He was a member of the National Honor Society and was the recipient of the National Scholar/Athlete Award, the Presidential Academic Fitness Award and the Kiwanis Club Leadership Award.

David Blevins

To be considered for an MSU grant, an undergraduate must be an out-of-state resident and be admitted to MSU. They must also have a grade point average of at least 2.75, a composite ACT score of at least 20 and be recommended by a school official. The grants are awarded on a competitive basis.

Richard Ristow of Romulus has been named to the Presidential Honor Society at the DeVry Institute of Technology in Columbus, Ohio.

To be eligible for the prestigious honor, he had to have a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.5 (out of a possible 4.0) after two terms of study.

Ristow, a student in the Electronics Engineering Technology program, has a 3.7 GPA.

Robert Sayre, a recent graduate of the Michigan Technical Institute Computer/Data processing program, was the recipient of the Board of Director's Plaque at the annual commencement exercises.

The characteristics considered for the Board of Director's Plaque include those traits which are: success in the student's chosen field as a worker and as a productive self-supporting citizen, the graduate who through his or her work has sought and received increased business responsibilities over a period of time, and the graduate who best exemplifies his or her training and education in the greater business community.

Sayre, who is from the Belleville area, is currently employed at Draw Title Inc. in Computer Operations.

Named to the Dean's list in recognition for superior academic achievement during the past term at Madonna College, Livonia, was Andrew Henderson of Belleville, a sophomore majoring in music education.

Several Belleville-Romulus residents were among advanced degree recipients at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti during its spring commencement ceremonies.

Collecting their "sheep skins" were Belleville residents Pamel E. Bishop, master of business administration; Deborah Costa, master of arts; Sherry Hoover, master of arts; Frank Musser, master of arts; and Margaret Viogt, master of arts; New Boston resident Sharon Phillips, master of arts; and Romulus resident Connie Dooley, master of arts.

Recent degree recipients at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo included Lisa Matthew of Belleville, bachelor of arts; and Mark Schimmel of Belleville, bachelor of science.

Gila Dorostkar, the daughter of Dr.

and Mrs. M.G. Dorostkar of Belleville, has been named to the Dean's List for the recently concluded quarter at Kalamazoo College in Kalamazoo.

She had to maintain at 3.5 grade point average or better to be named to the academic honors list.

Prospective August graduates at Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant included Laura Houle of Belleville, bachelor of science in education, with a major in teaching the emotionally impaired.

Everyone is invited to attend a special grand opening celebration at 10 a.m. this Saturday, Oct. 26 - which will feature personal appearances by Gobots, Hugga Bunch, Robotman, Firiffles, as well as the company's own "spokes animals" featuring Geoffrey Giraffe.

Westland Toys "R" Us store provides employment opportunities for approximately 55 to 85 full and part employees year round. During the Christmas seasons, staffing can range between 100 and 275 employees. Welcome to Westland!

Another store soon to open at the Westland Crossing Shopping Center is A.L. Price - Perry Drugs. The store opening is expected to be around Nov. 25.

Opening during November, too, will be the Pizza Inn at 8601 N. Wayne Road in Westland (inside the new Holiday Plaza). Pizza Inn is a 25-year old national pizza restaurant franchise chain based out of Dallas, Texas. (look for a weekday lunch special all-you-can-eat pizza, salad and spaghetti for one low price.)

Speaking of food... more and more folks are saying "Si, Si" to Jalapeno Pete's & Pasta at 35230 Cowan Road in Westland (across from Westland Center). New owners Barry Skeen and Al Andrews have done a great job keeping the festive Mexican and Italian Restaurant fun and inexpensive. Their house speciality is a (gigantic) Wet Burrito which about a foot long. (I guarantee you won't walk away hungry) They offer daily specials and a children's menu for your "Little Amigos". A full bar service is also available.

Watch Out...the cold and flu season is coming soon! American Medical Center at 381 Main Street in Belleville is offering Flu shots through Nov. 30. for just $3. No appointment is necessary and there is no office charge. Treatment hours are 9 a.m. - 7 p.m., 9 a.m. - 1 p.m. Saturday. For more information call 699-5300.

For Ladies only... "Class Act" exotic all-male dancers will be appearing (literally) at The Brass Connection 850 Sumpter Road, Belleville next Tuesday night, Oct. 22 beginning at 7:30 p.m. Admission is $5. Men are not welcome until 11 p.m. (but men will probably be very welcome by then).

See you next week!

wall street the week ahead

DEAR INVESTOR, IN MY OPINION: The recent market enthusiasm for potential takeovers, or buy-out stock issues, has given the stock market an unexpected lift; at a time when it may well have had a serious decline. This unexpected lift may be a long term positive for the economy. The Federal Reserve Board had been aggressive in managing the money supply (M-1); to help prevent an economic slow down.

For this week, interest rates will be flat, with a little upward bias. Bonds and interest sensitive issues will trade in narrow ranges. Gold and silver will continue to be under some selling pressure.

For this week, all of the traders: short term, intermediate, and long term will be attempting to do the same thing; find the next takeover target.

For this week, we could see a lot a churning action as traders move from position to position, depending on the latest rumor, or news story appearing on "the wire". Assuming this situation continues for the next several weeks, it becomes more unlikely that we could see a near term market decline.

OPINION FOR OCT.20,1985

NOTE: Producer prices drop .6 percent and industrial production fell .1 percent in September while retail sales up 2.7 percent (because of higher auto sales); Money Center banks post higher earnings; New car sales plunged 10.2 percent in early October because of the end of the 7.7 percent financing.

Opinions are solely that of the author, and not that of First of Michigan Corporation. Send investment questions to First of Michigan, P.O. Box B.E., Southgate, MI. 48195 or phone 285-2000 for Frank Cortez or Ronald Ferenczi. All financial planning, common stock or portfolio inquiries will be answered individually.

INSURANCE COMPANY DENIES MEDICAL EMERGENCY BENEFITS !!!

Dear Letter Writer:

I was in a very bad car accident and had to go to the hospital for treatment. The bill was $50.20. About six months after the accident I got notified for my medical insurance that they would not pay the bill because it was not an "emergency." They said, "It is not covered by your contract. We pay for outpatient services or emergency room visits, when the condition treated is a life-threatening emergency or accidental injury caused by an outside force. The medical records sent by the hospital did not show treatment for one of these conditions."

What can I do about this.

Sincerely, EG

Dear Insurance Company:

I sought medical treatment at the hospital after a head-on automobile collision on Feb. 11, 1982.

The accident resulted in injuries to my head, neck, back, hand and knees.

I would like a complete and detailed explanation from you as to why this scenario does not fall within your definition, i.e., ... when the condition treated is a life-threatening emergency or an accidental injury caused by an outside force."

Please respond immediately.

Sincerely, EG

Copy to: State Insurance Commission

RESOLUTION: This correspondence was mailed in 1983 and as of this date, 1985, EG has heard nothing from either the hospital or the insurance company. The assumption must, therefore, be made that the matter was handled by the insurance company. There is no question that both the hospital and the insurance companies are abused by each other or the patient, however, there are times when we must all "put our foot down" and stand up for our rights. If an automobile accident is not an emergency, I don't know what is.

Your response to my columns are appreciated. Keep in touch with me at 42245 Ann Arbor Road, PMC Center, Suite 109LL, Plymouth, MI 48170 or call me at (313) 455-8892.

RE-ELECT BILL WADSWORTH

ROMULUS CITY COUNCIL

Dear Romulus Resident:

In 1983 when you elected me to the City Council, I vowed to vote fair on all issues placed before me, always keeping in mind the needs of the citizens first. I believe I have.

During the 11 years I worked Romulus as a Police Officer, I feel I know and understand the problems, needs and wants of the citizens, from the youngest to the seniors. My wife Virginia and I have lived in Romulus for 18 years. Our sons attend school in Romulus and we think it is a fine community to raise a family.

During my first term we saw many positive things happen, the opening of a new Post Office, paving of new roads, new outdoor skating rinks for our children, Wick Road Development and the start of Cable T.V. Many things are still undone and I ask for your support for a second term.

European holidays offered to students

Qualified high school students are offered a unique chance to spend an academic year or six week summer stay in Scandinavia, Germany, France, Switzerland, Britain, Holland, Spain, or Canada (French, English speaking), as apart of the ASSE International Student Exchange Program (ASSE), according to Warren Clague, midwestern director of ASSE.

Students 15 to 18 years old qualify on the basis of academic performance, character references and a genuine desire to experience life with a volunteer host family in Europe or Canada.

"ASSE families are carefully screened to provide a warm and caring environment in which the student can learn the language and culture of their host country," Clague explained.

Summer students will live with an English speaking family. Year students need not speak a foreign language as they will receive cultural and language instruction as part of the ASSE program. They will attend regular school classes with their host country counterparts.

"ASSE students learn by living," added Clague.

The non-profit, public benefit ASSE International Student Exchange Program, is affiliated with the Swedish and Finnish Departments of Education.

Students who are interested can contact Paul & Stephanie Satlowski, 41810 Pierce St., Belleville MI. 48111 or by calling 699-1273.

PTA offers tips for safe Halloween

- Halloween is a special holiday for children. However, parents have recently become concerned about the safety of children who trick-or-treat.
- According to Ann Kahn, National PTA president, "The PTA has always been concerned about children's Halloween safety. That's why we're asking parents and local PTAs to use precautions to avoid any potential problems or to offer alternatives to trick-or-treating by organizing neighborhood activities."
- Here are suggestions from the National PTA to make Halloween a safe, happy holiday for children and the community.
- Accompany children on their trick-or-treating route.
 - Avoid unfamiliar neighbors or homes of strangers
 - Tell children not to sample anything until they return home so that the treats can be inspected for possible tampering.
 - Tell children to politely decline any invitation to enter a home or apartment. Similarly, don't encourage children you don't know to enter your home. Give manufacturer-wrapped treats rather than home-made goodies.
 - Make sure masks do not obstruct peripheral vision, or use make-up instead.
 - See that costumes are short enough so youngsters don't

- trip. Bright colors and reflectorized costumes are more visible.
- If costumes are purchased at a store, make sure they are "Flame Proof." This includes masks, wigs and beards.
 - For older kids without adult chaperones, the first rule is always to travel in groups, never alone.
 - For those who prefer an alternative to trick-or-treating, the following activities could be coordinated by a local PTA.
 - Host an all-school Halloween party and invite children to come in costumes and masks. Present awards for the best and most original costume from each classroom.
 - Host a house party for children and their friends. Encourage children to dress as their favorite characters and have each child tell his or her character's life story. Have treats for them, and let them bob for apples. Arrange a treasure hunt in and around the house.
 - Weather permitting, stage a halloween block party for families in the area one day during the weekend before or after Halloween. Encourage everyone to come in costume. Bring homebaked goodies to share.
 - Encourage the local library to host a ghost story hour, where children may come in costume to listen to the children's librarian tell ghost stories.

Sweet Surprise Record harvest fuels area cider mills

A record one billion pounds of apples should be plucked off Michigan trees this year — up 30 percent over 1984 — and that will mean plenty of sweet cider to savor this fall, according to AAA of Michigan.

"One of the great, low-cost family outings available to Michiganders is a trip to a cider mill to watch the apples, bursting with juice, being pressed into fall's favorite beverage," stated AAA Michigan Travel Operations Manager Jim Drury. "Apple cider prices are the same as last year and fresh doughnuts at the cider mills have dropped slightly in cost since last fall."

A gallon of cider averages $2.37 per gallon, ranging from $1.50 to $3.50. A dozen doughnuts average $2.29, 2 cents lower than last year. Costs vary from $1.30 to $3.10.

Although Michigan's apple production has increased and now represents 12 percent of the nation's total, the 8.1 billion pounds of apples to be harvested across America this year is 3 percent below last year, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Michigan is the leading producer of Jonathans and Northern Spys in the country and ranks third in overall production of apples.

"We have had unusually favorable growing conditions this year," Drury said. "Good

Glenn vs. Harrison

Undefeated Rockets place title, 7-game winning streak on block

By KEITH DeMOLAY
ANP Special Writer

For six days and six nights, a hardy group of John Glenn Football Boosters sawed, hammered, nailed and made flowers in preparation for the Homecoming Parade. Their float was entitled, "Superheroes", from the children's television show of the same name.

A couple of miles away, their own "Superheroes" ---the Rockets ---were preparing for their Homecoming encounter with Western Lakes Activities Association rival, Plymouth Salem.

Glenn's preparations worked out perfectly as the Rockets of John Glenn defeated Salem, 34-8, to run their over-all record to 7-0 and 5-0 in the WLAA.

"It's always good to win the Homecoming Game," noted Glenn Coach Chuck Gordon. "I was very pleased with the overall performance of our team."

Now one game stands between Glenn and the league championship ---Friday night at Kionka Field the Westlanders will host always-tough Farmington Harrison.

"They're one of the traditional powers in the state and one of the name teams," Gordon said. "We'll have to get ready to play our best game of the year."

Glenn, which has put its offensive pedal to the medal of late, came out roaring in the first half and never let up until the final gun.

With tailback Tony Boles running the ball, the Rockets moved the ball down the field like clockwork. A key play on the drive was a 15-yard pass to Bill Grisamer from Steve Irwin for a first-down and Boles' 26-yard scamper. Finally, with the ball on the 11-yard line, Irwin found tight end Rick Hassen in the end zone for the touchdown. With Tony Svaluto's point-after, Glenn led 7-0. Hassen's touchdown was his fifth of the season and tied a long-standing record held by four former Rockets. Ironically, one of them is Jim Irwin, brother of Steve.

Glenn's defense, led by Don Croft and Mike Hammontree, stood up to Salem's offense and held them out of the end zone. A 24-yard run by quarterback Paul Mahara was negated by a fumble and Glenn recovered.

After a first down pass from Irwin to Hammontree, Boles took the handoff at the 46-yard line and raced into the end zone for the score. Svaluto's PAT made it 14-0 and the rain-drenched Homecoming crowd was celebrating.

Three plays later, the Rockets scored again, this time on a 23-yard field goal by Svaluto. A key play on the drive was a fake punt, as reserve quarterback Steve Hawley ran 22-yards for a first down, then Paul Beasley ran 12 more for another first down before Svaluto's success-

Spartans in 'spoiler's role'

Cherry Hill clashes with Crestwood

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Cast in a role of "spoiler's", Cherry Hill and Coach Ken Mientkiewicz would like nothing better than to detour Dearborn Heights Crestwood's title express.

And there are ample reasons.

The Spartans, who are 2-4 in the Tri-River Conference and 3-4 over-all, will travel to Crestwood Friday night for their final conference game. A victory would "be an excellent way to bid the conference farewell," says Mientkiewicz. And the Spartans will also bring an end to more than two decades of football competition a week from Friday when they take on Clarenceville. (The school district will be dissolved after the current school year).

Crestwood and Taylor Kennedy share the league lead and can't afford a loss.

"We are looking forward to spoiling the season for them," Mientkiewicz said, who warned that the Chargers are a well disciplined, tough team. "We need another outstanding performance from our defense and a minimum amount of mistakes to beat them."

Crestwood also boasts three former Cherry Hill gridders who opted to transfer to the neighboring school district instead of playing out the final season in a Spartan uniform.

An alert Spartan defense that frustrated Annapolis until the final whistle was credited with providing the impetus for the 14-0 shutout over the Cougars. "We played tough on defense," Mientkiewicz noted, "and all of the kids who participated should be applauded for a job well done."

On offense, Brian Wolf provided both Spartan touchdowns. Wolf, a junior running back, capped a first quarter Cherry Hill drive by scoring from 3-yards out. Lou Davis, who quarterbacked the 70-yard sustained drive, accounted for the 2-point conversion.

The Spartans made it a 14-0 game in the second quarter when Wolf again grabbed an Annapolis fumble and raced back 35 yards for the TD.

"I think our team showed a lot of character during that sustained drive," Mientkiewicz pointed out. "Also, our defense showed what it is capable of doing when, in the last quarter we fumbled on our 10 and it refused to buckle and give up a touchdown."

Wolf finished the game with 75 yards and both TDs. It was his running and Harry Jones's ballcarrying in the first series that enabled the Spartans to get on the scoreboard.

With victory over Inkster

Robichaud celebrates 27-12

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Dearborn Heights Robichaud celebrated its rain-drenched Homecoming Friday afternoon with a 27-12 victory over natural rival, Inkster.

And, although the Bulldogs couldn't shake the rains - it was the third consecutive week that Coach Bob Yauck and his Bulldogs played under the rains - they were in control of the game after Inkster's Marvin Brewer ran the opening kickoff 83 yards for a touchdown.

"Brewer's TD really startled us," Yauck admitted, "but to the credit of our players they then settled down and played an excellent game after that."

Robichaud tied the score in the second quarter when Bernard Carter went over the Viking goal line from the 2 which polished off a short 25 yard drive. The TD was set up on an Inkster turnover. When Carter also punched over the two-point conversion, making it 8-6, the Bulldogs took the lead for good.

Inkster's offensive machine, which had been well-groomed in recent weeks, appeared mired in the rains. The Vikings also discovered that the Robichaud defense wouldn't give it time to set up.

"Our defensive unit played an extremely well game," Yauck said, "and the front line put a lot of pressure on them." Yauck singled out Carter and Don Mondell as the mainstays of the defense.

Robichaud pulled away from an 8-6 halftime advantage with a pair of TDs in the third quarter as Carter scampered 52 yards down the sidelines after an exchange of punts and Ken Wood converted.

Also in that third frame, quarterback Gene Bailey completed a 23-yard touchdown pass to Parker, which was the first time the Bulldogs got on the scoreboard this season via the air ways.

see Bulldogs Page 2-C

Wolf on the loose

On the loose is Cherry Hill's junior tailback Brian Wolf who scored both Spartan touchdowns last week in a 14-0 shutout over Dearborn Heights Annapolis. The Spartans and Coach Ken Mientkiewicz will be on the road to Crestwood where they will encounter a title-hopeful club and some of the former Spartan players who defected to the Chargers when it was announced the Cherry Hill School District would be dissolved and realigned with the Wayne-Westland schools. Game time is 7:30 p.m. and it will be the final appearance of a Cherry Hill football team in the Tri-River.

Harriers run for honors

With most of the dual meet season behind them, area high school harriers are looking forward to competing for regional honors on Saturday and qualifying for state competition.

Class B runners will gather at Orchard St. Mary's with Inkster, Cherry Hill and Dearborn Heights joining the more than 25 high school teams that are seeking regional recognition.

Inkster and sophomore coach Leavy Devoe, who are in the thick of the race for the Suburban Athletic Conference championship, will have at least two outstanding regional candidates. They are Kevin Eldridge, a senior, and Daryl Swint, a junior. Both runners are undefeated in dual meet competition and will be among the favorites to capture the SAC title.

Devoe is optimistic about his team's chances of winning the SAC and also of qualifying the two unbeaten harriers for state competition.

"I feel we have an excellent shot at winning the conference championship," said Devoe, "even though we have dropped dual meets to Highland Park and Ecorse. We didn't have our top runners in those meets."

Inkster also has three good-looking candidates in Gene Taylor, Charles McKay and Gerald McClendon. William McCloud and Charles Henderson round out the Viking line-up.

The SAC title will be decided today in Hines Park. Joining Inkster at the league meet will be Robichaud, Highland Park, Willow Run, River Rouge and Ecorse.

Last week the Vikings turned back Ecorse 16-39, avenging an earlier loss to the Red Raiders.

Eldridge and Swint finished 1-2 at the meet while Charles McKay was third, followed by Taylor and McClendon.

Cherry Hill's hopes at the regionals will ride on record-setting Bubba Zirker's efforts. Zirker has been the mainstay of the Spartan team throughout the 1985 campaign.

"I believe he has an excellent chance of surviving the regional," said Cherry Hill coach Jeff Shough. "And I also believe that Rick Farley can make it through."

The Spartans will be taking a 2-4 record into Thursday's meet with Dearborn Heights Crestwood, their final Tri-River Conference foe of the year. The league meet is scheduled for Oct. 30 in Firemen's Youth Park in Riverview. Cherry Hill's goal is a third place finish, according to Shough who feels that Southgate and Thurston are the teams to beat in the conference.

Counter-attack

Robichaud burst Inkster's football bubble last Friday as the Bulldogs recovered from two shocking setbacks to beat their natural rivals 27-12 before a Homecoming crowd at the Dearborn Heights High School. While Robichaud attempts to improve on its 5-2 record Friday night at the expense of Romulus, Inkster will try to recover from the setback on the home field as hosts to Detroit East Catholic.

Belleville loses 2 OT thriller, 8-6

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

It was one of those losses that coaches don't like to talk about; that will haunt you for many games and seasons to come.

Belleville High, on the verge of breaking a six-game losing streak, was forced to hand over a double overtime 8-6 decision to Lincoln Park Friday night. That gave LP's Homecoming crowd plenty to cheer about.

"We told the kids after the loss," said Belleville coach Pete O'Neill, "that we are satisfied with the efforts they put out, but not with the outcome of the game."

And with Fordson, the defending Wolverine A Conference champ who has built up a 6-1 record, scheduled to take on Belleville next, the Tigers apparently are doomed to finish in the cellar of the league this year.

Belleville wraps up the 1985 campaign a week from Friday as hosts of Ypsilanti Lincoln.

Belleville appeared to have its first victory in hand when, in the second overtime period, the Tigers hit paydirt as quarterback Steve Ostrowski fired a six-yard TD pass to Brian Bird, giving the Tigers a 6-0 edge. A poor snap from center foiled their chances for the conversion.

However, moments later Lincoln Park came back and also connected on a third down pass. The Parkers shattered Belleville's hopes of victory when they scored on a broken play for the two point conversion. An errant pass to the holder was scooped up and turned into the successful two-pointer.

Belleville saw an excellent chance to get on the scoreboard during regulation time when in the third quarter quarterback Jim Utt engineered a drive to the Parker 12 yard line where they suddenly came to a standstill.

O'Neill elected to go for a field goal and called upon Dennis Montie. A 29-yard attempt failed to materialize and the threat was ended.

Bulldogs rip Inkster

The two arch-rivals exchanged fourth quarter touchdowns with the Bulldogs getting on the scoreboard midway thanks to Parker's jarring hit of quarterback Knox who fumbled the ball over to Robichaud's Calvin Carter. Carter responded graciously by racing 50 yards into the Viking end zone. Knox came back with 5-yard TD pass to Brewer. Carter, who had 114 yards in 21 attempts, led Robichaud's offense while Bailey connected on only one of four passes for 23 yards. However, both sides were fighting the elements throughout the game.

Robichaud heads for Romulus Friday night for an out-of-conference with the Eagles who have had their share of problems this season. Romulus is coming off of a 6-0 loss to Garden City.

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Wayne Memorial put the pieces together Friday night as Coach Chuck Howton's Zebras blanked Wyandotte 12-0 for their second triumph in six starts in the Wolverine 'A' Conference.

Despite incessant rains, Wayne got untracked early against the ailing Bruins who also have had their share of problems. The Zebras scored two second quarter touchdowns and made them stand up as the margin of victory.

"I feel that our team is beginning to mature," said Howton who is completing his first season as head coach. "The defense was exceptional and our secondary again stood out." The secondary, with Eddie Jordan, Dave Florn, Wayne

Schoolcraft Spikers win

Schoolcraft College competed in a quadrangular tournament against three Great Lakes Inter-Collegiate Athletic Conference volleyball squads and in the first match against Aquinas, Schoolcraft had little trouble waking up, but behind the strong serving of ex-Wayne Memorial ace, Patti Kozicki, and Kathy McIntosh who both served aces to end the first and second games.

Schoolcraft claimed the victories 15-10 and 15-12. Match No.2 saw Schoolcraft taking on Lake Superior and the Ocelots took the match with scores of 15-12 and 15-4. The performance of Sue Cyrus, with 10 kills and 25 spiking attempts, was one of the keys to the victory.

In a match filled with previously unused skills like Cyrus's backcourt spike-kill for a point, Kathy McIntosh's on-target setting for six assists and some trick-serving by sophomore setter Linda Loeffler, the Ocelots are proving that they can be winners.

Zebras face Monroe next

Wayne whips Wyandotte

Roberts and Kelly Claxton in the backfield has given up only eight passes in the last four games.

With quarterback Doug Quartuccio at the throttle, Wayne also unleashed one of its best offensive displays of the current campaign. Quartuccio guided the Zebras on an 80-yard march late in the first period that culminated early in the second frame with a 12-yard TD strike to Shawn Howard.

That series was kept alive thanks to a third down, 18-yard gain by Danny McGraw who paced all Wayne ballcarriers with 118 yards on 18 carries.

Quartuccio's bid for the point-after was off target.

Wayne was back on the scoreboard five minutes later thanks to the hustle of Harold Nunley who caused a Bruin fumble on the 10 and he then pounced on the loose ball. On the first play from scrimmage, fullback Kwan Hearn plowed off tackle and into the Wyandotte end zone.

Wayne also saw two other legitimate touchdown threats dissipate. Immediately after the third quarter kick off the Zebras marched downfield and were inside the Wyandotte 15 yard line when Quartuccio fired a pass that had interception written on it. And late in the same quarter the Zebras lost another opportunity when they turned over the ball at the Bruin 20 yard line.

Howton complimented the defense and singled out Fred Horn, an end, Danny Graham, a linebacker, and Larry Larson, a tackle, for exceptional play.

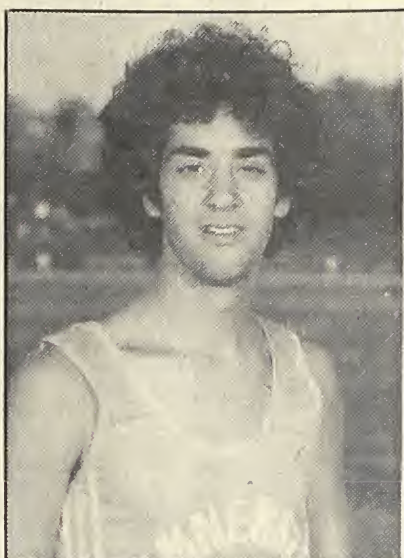

"This was a big game for us," said Howton. "We needed it to boost our morale."

Although Monroe, a team that lost to Fordson last week 52-0 is next for the Zebras, Howton warns that "they (Monroe) will be throwing everything they have at us."

"Monroe is going to come at us with everything they have so we will have to be ready physically and mentally. And we can't be looking ahead to our annual meeting with John Glenn. If we do that, we are in trouble."

Glenn has won seven straight and a divisional title. The Westlanders clash with Farmington Harrison to see which of the two will become the first football champion of the expanded Western Lakes Conference.

If Glenn can come away with a victory then beat Wayne the following week, it may just claim a post season Class A playoff berth.

David Krasfur

Fast pace

The Tennessee Volunteer cross country team captured their first victory of the season against Mississippi State as they defeated the Bulldogs 16-47. The victory gave first-year head coach Doug Brown his first win of the year.

Tennessee was led by David Krasfur who placed first with a time of 25:42.

Romulus shut out by Garden City

After losing a defensive duel with Garden City 6-0 last Friday, Romulus will return home and prepare for the invasion by Dearborn Heights Robichaud.

Robichaud, sporting a 5-2 over-all record, will be in town Friday night to take on the Eagles who have slipped to a 2-5 record after losing to the Cougars.

Robichaud is tough. They are always tough," said Romulus coach Norb Glover. "We have a lot of respect for their coaching staff and we are going to have to complete at least 50 percent of our passes to even stay on the same field with them."

With rain constantly hampering both sides of the line, Romulus couldn't come up with a scoring combination against Garden City Friday night. The Eagles managed to get inside the Garden City 25 yard line in the first three minutes of the first quarter but a fumble erased the scoring threat.

"That was a crucial turnover," Glover pointed out. "It seemed to take something out of us, and we didn't do anything worth mentioning after that series."

With the inclement weather forcing both sides to limit their air warfare and with the ballcarriers having problems with their footing, the game was decided by one TD.

The loss left Romulus holding a 2-5 record and also shattered hopes of a winning season.

Romulus's Ron Campbell and Billy Campbell "ran good but couldn't get anything going," according to the Romulus coach. "The weather definitely played its role in this one. But the field was wet for both teams, so we can't use that as an excuse."

Belleville BPW members take cruise of Detroit

Fourteen members of the Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club enjoyed a buffet lunch, while cruising on the Detroit River aboard the flagship "Star of Detroit."

Joining the Belleville group were BPW members from Ann Arbor and Dearborn clubs. The ship is moored at the Detroit River Pier adjacent to the Hart Plaza.

On boarding the ship, at 10:30 a.m., the group was seated at reserved tables covered with white cloths and bud vases full of fresh flowers. All of the young crew members were dressed in navy and white nautical uniforms.

The luncheon began immediately after embarking. It consisted of three courses including salad, entree and dessert.

The ship traveled up the river, close to the Canadian shoreline and turned around at Lake St. Clair and returned close to the American side, taking in such sites as the Renaissance Center, Belle Isle, Walker Distilleries, Dieppe Park, Windsor and many other landmarks. It also cruised under the Ambassador Bridge as it moved down the Detroit River.

On the top deck of the ship, a five-piece band played throughout the tour and club members were free to move around the three decks for picture taking and viewing.

Following the cruise, all the BPW members walked to Hart

Plaza, where the Polish ethnic festival was in full swing. They saw several different age groups perform Polish dances and sing Polish songs.

The weather cooperated 100 percent and made an especially pleasant day, worth repeating in 1986.

Members attending were President Connie Stoelton, Irene Christie, Mabel Hall, Stephanie Malizia, Vira McGrane, Aldine Potter, Rea Relyea, Marie Roberts, Pam Zoller, Sophie Zoller, Linda Maton, Irene Maton and Midge Artley.

Belleville Study Club traces its 'roots'

Study club

The GFWC Belleville Area Intermediate Study Club held its first meeting of the 1985-86 club year at the Van Buren Township Hall on Wednesday, Sept. 18. The meeting was hosted by first vice-president Kitty Davies, who provided the light refreshment. The meeting was attended by 10 members and guests.

The topic of study for the meeting was the history of the General Federation of Women's Clubs and the GFWC by first vice-president Cathy Horste, member and township historian.

Mrs. Horste reminded members that "club" traditions go as far back in history as the first recorded "meeting of ladies to study" being held on shipboard in 1634, while the ship was en route from England to Massachusetts Bay Colony.

She also noted that the first formally chartered Women's Club in America was founded in Detroit in 1812, and that during World War I, Michigan club women sent wedding gowns to France to be worn by French war brides and that during WW II, Michigan club women paid for more than 15 airplanes assembled at Willow Run Bomber Plant.

Joining Mrs. Horste was Mrs. Avis White, member of the Belleville Women's Club, who recalled fond memories of the founding of the younger women's group now known as the GFWC Belleville Area Intermediate Study Club.

Club members adopted the program of study for the coming year, which includes serving as hostess for Ingathering (the public opening of Girlstown home for girls located in Van Buren Township), joining the Belleville area Historical Society and sponsoring a five community-wide adult education program to cover sexual abuse of children.

The next meeting of the GFWC Belleville Area Intermediate Study Club will be on Wednesday, Oct. 16. Meetings are open to any interested females. For more information, or a "no obligation" invitation to attend, call club president Gloria Gardner at 697-9209 after 6:PM 697-7968.

Garden Club looks at trees

Van Buren Garden Club

The Van Buren Garden Club's September meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Emill Sala, where home baked refreshments were enjoyed.

Mrs. Melvin Budd presented an interesting and educational tree identification program in which members were required to participate by identifying trees by their leaves. Mrs. Winnifred Gault was the winner for identifying the most trees and received the autumn door decoration prize made by Mrs. Budd.

Mrs. Budd then presented a reading concerning trees in Michigan, the lumber industry, and how products made from lumber changed over the years from hardwood to softwood demand and how the Christmas tree industry has increased until Michigan is the number one producer of Christmas trees, a multi-million dollar business in the state.

Lumber products consist of pulp wood for paper; pressed wood products are increasing in demand. Fuel wood comprises 10 percent of forest products and the balance is made up of veneer logs, mine timbers, railroad ties, cabin logs, post, poles and piling.

DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES HAZARDOUS WASTE DIVISION

P.O. BOX 30038

LANSING, MICHIGAN 48909

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR A CONSTRUCTION PERMIT FOR A NEW HAZARDOUS WASTE DISPOSAL FACILITY

On January 13, 1984, the Department of Natural Resources received a construction permit application for a proposed hazardous waste disposal facility from Environmental Management Systems, Inc., (EMS). The facility was proposed to be constructed on a 300 acre site located on the northeast corner of the intersection of Interstate 275 and Will Carleton Road, Huron Township, Wayne County. This site is shown on the map below:

This application was subsequently reviewed for administrative completeness and found to be incomplete. A revised application was submitted on EMS on July 1, 1985. The revised application was denied by the Department on July 10, 1985, because the applicant's copyright prevented the Department from making copies of the application available to the public.

On September 9, 1985 a suit was filed against the Department by EMS in Ingham County Circuit Court.

Circuit Judge James T. Kallman issued a temporary restraining order which requires the Department to immediately reinstitute its review of the application and to carry it to completion.

Therefore, pursuant to the court order and Sections 19, 20 and 21 of Act 64, the Department has initiated a technical review of the application and intends to either recommend approval or deny the application on or before January 7, 1986. If the Department recommends approval of the application, a site review board will be established pursuant to Section 17 of Act 64 to review the impact that the proposed disposal facility will have on the local community. The board will then have 120 days to review and either approve or reject the construction permit application. Once the board reaches a decision, the Director of the Department will either issue or deny a construction permit accordingly.

The application package, which is copyrighted by the applicant, may be reviewed at the Wayne County Health Department, Division of Environmental Health, 3669 Metro Place Mall, Wayne, Michigan, and Huron Township Offices, 37290 Huron River Drive, New Boston, Michigan. Copies of the application package may be ordered from the Department of Natural Resources, Hazardous Waste Division, at the address listed above for the cost of reproduction (approximately $125.00).

To receive any future notifications regarding this facility, contact Karen Flagg at the Hazardous Waste Division's Lansing Office and request to be placed on the mailing list for the Huron Township Industrial Waste Management Facility construction permit application.

And remember
Heaven isn't so far away
With swinging doors open for one more
As we send him off to the golden gates - of a heavenly place
Have little grief - for he'll surely rest in peace.
